

TCS SRS :-

- In this they specified many topics which are not much important for our project . For example some contents like software safety etc.
- The specification of the project and the progress is explained in a decent manner.
- They listed many topics . This will lead to clutter to the reader.

BMW SRS :-

- They used IEEE Std 830 - 1998 for SRS
- The format is more specific and very clear to understand about the project
- The format has no indexing .

IEEE:-

- Its Document format has too many specifications which can be integrated and an abstract model would suffice the requirements.
- Safety requirements and Business rules may be omitted considering the scope of the project.